

Wake Robin

A Family Farm

March 5, 2015

What's "Normal"?

Starting this week, things are back to "normal" on our farm. This means that we will return to making our perishable dairy products: yogurt, bottled milk, and fresh cheese curds.

Our Farm Store will re-open this Friday, March 6. It will be stocked with October Rose Farm eggs, as well as our cheeses and fresh dairy products by noon, and will be open until 7 p.m. On Saturday, March 7, we will resume regular hours at our farm store - 7 days a week, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. We will return to CNY Regional Market this Saturday, on March 7. Look for our flag hanging from our stall in "A" shed, from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m.

As you may know, things have been a little different on our farm for the past couple of months. We had an unexpected "vacation" from our regular processing and marketing schedule over the winter, due to an injury in our family. We are happy to report that Bruce's right arm is much better after surgery in December, and he has returned to lifting hay, moving milk cans, and doing all the things he did before he ruptured his biceps tendon. While he was healing, in January and February, we made over a ton of cheese - literally! All of this cheese will be aged for over a year, so we'll have lots of Mona Lisa and Bailiwick Cheddar available next winter.

Bruce made good use of his "down time", by developing a new flavor of cheese and experimenting with bread baking. The cheese, Pesto Jack, will be available this weekend, and we hope to start offering his breads soon too!

Thank you all for your understanding and support this winter. We have appreciated your kind notes and gestures, and we look forward to seeing you soon!

Your farmers,

Bruce, Meg & Hugh Schader